

Dear All,

St. Xavier's College, XRCVC-Viviana extension is happy to announce an online workshop on the theme "Using X with Screen Reader" under its Tech Roshni series – A step at bridging the digital divide for blind and low vision persons.

- Do you have a favourite comedian whom you want to follow on X but your disability is becoming the hurdle?
- Are you a news junkie, and want to follow a particular channel. But you cannot use the X account with the Screen Reader appropriately?

X (Twitter) is the haiku of social networks. Unlike a Facebook post, which can be as long as it needs to be, X messages, known as tweets, have a 4000-character limit. Users must condense their thoughts into a compact posting. So why would you want to constrain your thoughts and use X? On X you can Follow any number of interesting people and organizations. On Facebook, you need to Friend other users in order to follow their posts. On X you can follow anyone, and, unless you protect your account, anyone can follow you and benefit from the wit and wisdom of your pithy and informative Tweets.

When you set up a X account, you are presented with a list of suggested people you might wish to follow.

Let us come together and explore the accessibility of X with Screen Reader. XRCVC is going to conduct the Tech Roshni workshop on Using X with Screen Reader on Saturday, October 04, 2025 at 4:30 PM IST.

Interested participants should register using the link below on or before Thursday, October 02, 2025 by 11:59 PM.
